

K-LOVE is a fantastic asset to me and my family of five as a resident of South Central Texas. From K-LOVE, we get good information of local events, but more importantly, a positive and encouraging message and content that is uplifting, safe and appropriate for a broad range of people in our community.

A change of programming to an LPFM source would be potentially devastating to both me and my family and the large number of local listeners who rely on K-LOVE to provide support through content in a way that no other has been able to do on any level. We depend upon K-LOVE on a daily basis to connect and relate and it has become an integral part of not only what we do, but who we are as citizens, parents, families, and workers. As I travel the local area, K-LOVE serves me personally at home and in two other major markets of San Antonio and Austin on 106.3, 92.1, and 91.3. No other station, broadcaster, or service can do that - it allows me to connect and relate with others in those areas, providing a common ground for building relationships and the sense of community.

K-LOVE provides a unique service that promotes values and good living through their content and delivery that is in the best interest of the public - wherever K-LOVE is located. I know personally and from others' experiences that K-LOVE is a source of encouragement and stability delivered through the media of radio that no one else can match or provide.

Please consider this matter carefully and don't make a decision that would take K-LOVE away from the public that it serves so well.
